Food And Drug Inspection

E. A. McDonald, of the government Laboratory at Seattle, was in town the first of the week inspecting the groceries and drugs offered for sale by local merchants.

The system of procedure of the prosecution of offenders is as follows: The inspector buys a sample of the questionable goods and sends it to the government Laboratory at Seattle or Portland. If the goods are found to be adulterated or misrepresented they are sent to Washington, D. C. and if the Pure Food Bureau finds cause for action the District Attorney of Alaska is instructed to bring suit against the offender.

Mr. McDonald is the first inspector ever sent to Alaska. He speaks very highly of the quality of goods that he has found.

While on this trip he has inspected several canneries and will give a general report of the conditions as found on this visit.

If you want a crab, go to Denney's.

What Is It?

On Sunday afternoon, between four and five o'clock, someone climbed a tree on Mt. Dewey and cut the copper wire of the telephone line from Wrangell to the cannery. Tuesday morning E. Hofstad who has charge of the new wharf property discovered that sand had been put into all the bearings and even the carburetor of the new gas hoisting engine which was recently installed for the convenience of the fishermen. Now no matter how inhuman these two acts appear no beast has the ability to execute such wantonly criminal acts and it is certain that some so-called human or humans in this town has committed these crimes against humanity.

Many theories might be advanced as to the motive for such actions. If it was intended as a practical joke it was a flat failure. If it was done to show downright mulish "cussedness" it was a howling success and the successful parties deserve rewards appropriate to their deeds.

Miners Bound For The Iskut River

Iskut River Mining Company Does Assessment Work

The Telegraph took seven men to the interior Saturday to do the assessment work for the Iskut River Mining Company. This Company composed of Messrs McCormack, Coulter, Bronson, Rusbee, Varet, Whitney, Grief and Maloney, has had claims staked for several years and have done their assessment work each year.

This year they expect to do some development work and prospecting. Mining Engineer Lawrence is with the party and much depends upon the report he makes although a ton of ore previously sent to the smelter showed fine returns.

If the report of Mr. Lawrence is favorable steps will be taken to have the Dominion government work on the Iskut's channel and open up navigation. The Canadian Government has two men, C. Wasson and Capt. Bragg, there now and an appropriation has been made for improving the channel.

Each member of the company is certain of the value of their claims and an effort will be made this year to get the property in shape to place it before capitalists.

Pt. Simpson Sailed

The Hudson Bay Company's river steamer Pt. Simpson, J. P. Bucey in command, finally made its appearance late last Friday, and Saturday the cargo consisting of 140 tons of miscellaneous freight was loaded and early Sunday morning she departed on the first of the four trips that she will make up the Stikine this season.

Among the passengers were, Mr. J. Thompson, wife and son Eric, of Victoria, Miss McTavish, A. M. Tyson, J. Carlmil and family, Dr. Emery and W. Watson.

The opening of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railroad from Prince Rupert to Hazelton will do away with the necessity for river steamers on the Skeena River. Just what the Hudson Bay Company will do with the steamers is not known but it is the general opinion that least one will be stationed at Wrangell to ply on the Stikine.

Boy Scouts Take Trip

The local company of Boy Scouts, under the charge of Rev. Corser, left Tuesday for a three days outing at Glacier Lake up the Stikine River.

The party went in Capt. Johansen's boat. While camped at the lake the boys will practice signaling and will map and study the glacier.

City Council Meeting

The Common Council of the Town of Wrangell met in regular session last Thursday evening. The most important topic of the meeting was the extension of the water system. Only one bid was submitted to the council and it was impossible for the Council to grant a contract because it did not comply with the route marked out by the call for bids.

The reason for the dullness in bidding is that in the proposed line for laying the pipes much rock would be encountered which would make the work difficult.

The fact that there would be rock to blast should not in any way hinder contractors bidding on the work. No one could be expected to excavate rock at dirt prices. However, as the project worked out it is a problem for the Council to decide whether to change the place for running the main or lay the pipe in the proposed place by hiring men by the day.

Chile-Concarne—Denney's.

S. S. Queen Has Successful Trip

The last trip of the excursion steamer, Queen, was one of the most successful since the special has been put on the run. Many noted passengers from all over the United States were on the boat. Among them: Mrs. J. C. Ford and daughters Agnes and Eunice, family of the President of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, Rev. F. P. Driscoll, Prof. J. J. Schurman, President of Cornell University, accompanied by his two daughters and son, Miss Ruth Levy, Dr. A. W. Morton, of San Francisco, Rev. Carl Anderson, Rev. W. P. Stevenson, of New York, and Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Hannevell.

While the Queen was in port, Theo. J. Richardson, who has been painting at Wrangell for the last two weeks, exhibited a small collection of his Alaska pictures to the tourists and to the people of Wrangell.

C. M. Coulter shipped 22 boxes of salmon on the Jefferson.

Exciting Moments

About 8:30 Tuesday morning the floating cannery, Glory of the Seas, emerging from the Wrangell Narrows, caused fear to enter the hearts of the bravest. Mr. Barbee who had the only available field-glasses, with a white face and tremulous voice announced his belief that it was a Chinese Gum-boot. After that possibility had been discussed at length by the bystanders Mr. Richardson came upon the scene with the suggestion that the Japanese seal-poachers had taken Peruna and were making a raid on Southeastern Alaska towns. When the above announcement was made, many were the different feelings expressed. Harry Gartley hoped that they had taken enough to be paralyzed and Ben Hill believed, judging from the speed they were making, that they were. Someone suggested fortifications and the subject was being warmly discussed when Johnny Grant appeared upon the scene and then everyone forgot everything else as soon as their eyes found the face of the inkeeper.

The Vermont Here

A. Lyman and a crew of the employees of the Vermont Marble Co. were in Wrangell Monday on their way from Ham Island to headquarters at Tokeen. The company is making good use of its new gas-boat the Vermont.

Objection Overruled.
She—Oh, but mamma objects to kissing. He—Well, I'm not kissing your mother, am I?—Boston Transcript.

Just Like Him.
A doctor was called to the bedside of a fond mother's baby boy. He diagnosed the ailment as acute rheumatism, and the mother responded quickly: "Acute rheumatism! I might have known it. Everything he does or says is just as cute."

A Financier.
"Tommy, what did you do with that penny I gave you for taking your medicine?"
"I bought a bun with one halfpenny, ma, and I gave Jimmy the other one to drink the medicine for me."—London Tit-Bits.

Putting on Style.
"Well, I never!"
"What's the matter, my dear?"
"Why, cook says that those people who live in that insignificant little house opposite came over here while we were away and were photographed sitting on our veranda!"—Pearson's.

Woman's Way.
"My wife reads the marriage notices carefully every day. Wouldn't miss a day for worlds."
"Why not?"
"Oh, about once every six years somebody gets married that she knows."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Correct Way.
Q.—Dear editor, which is proper: "Gert has a new skirt" or "Gertrude has a new skirtude?"
A.—We regret to say that neither is correct. Properly stated, it would read, "Gertie has a new skirtie."—Woman's Home Companion.

A Different Errand.
"Miss Wombat accepted me last night."
"I suppose you are around today receiving congratulations?"
"No; I'm around trying to borrow $200 to buy a ring."—Kansas City Journal.

Declaration of Independence.
Of the great men's signatures that were written to the Declaration of Independence hardly one is legible now. But this is due to the fact that some sixty years ago in taking a facsimile the press copy absorbed the ink from nearly all the signatures.

MISTAKES.

If you make a mistake do not dwell upon it. Take note of the reason of it and endeavor to profit by its contained lesson.

Jefferies Today

Several weeks ago J. G. Grant received a letter from the south asking for accommodations for Jas. J. Jefferies and party. With the arrival of the Jefferson this afternoon many Wrangellites will have a chance to gratify their wish to see the one-time champion heavyweight of world.

Jefferies is on his way to Kodiak Island to hunt big game and fish a few days at Wrangell and Juneau.

Telegraph Returns

Monday evening the Telegraph returned from her Iskut River trip being unable to get up very far on account of the driftwood and sand bars. The miners who were bound for the Iskut River Mining Company's claims were put ashore and will make their way to the mines in small boats. Capt. Bragg and C. Wasson, who were on the river in the interest of the Canadian Government, returned Monday after an absence of about a week.

Enjoyable Dance

Last Saturday evening many Wrangell people enjoyed a dance at the Red Men's Hall. Mrs. J. E. Worden and C. Shafstad furnished the music. The evenings amusement was enjoyed by all present.
